

Tampa Bay

After several years of record-setting economic growth, Florida's real estate markets abruptly paused in mid-March due to the spread of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). While the full impact is yet to be felt, second quarter statistics provide an indication of the Tampa Bay market's health. Third quarter activity is expected to provide greater clarity.

Robust Leasing Continues Along the I-4 Corridor with Several Significant New Development Projects Underway

- Year-over-year vacancy for the period ending with 2Q-2020 has declined by 18 basis points, which is impressive given that 8.1 million sf of new industrial space has delivered during that time.
- Amazon continues to dominate industrial leasing along the I-4 corridor. The e-commerce giant just acquired 88.2 acres in Temple Terrace for $26.4 million, or $299,150 per acre, and is planning a 2.5 million sf multi-story robotics warehouse on the site. Amazon has also signed a deal to lease the newly developed 425,550-sf I-4 Logistics Center in Seffner.
- The industrial sector continues to exhibit strength during the pandemic, with several companies actively looking for large blocks of space and a marked increase in activity along the I-4 corridor

- between Tampa and Orlando. At the end of May, HCA Healthcare signed a massive lease for 713,000 sf at a newly completed speculative development in Lakeland, and Ace Hardware leased 710,000 sf at County Line Farms in Plant City. Home Depot is also planning its third warehouse on 65 acres in Hillsborough County.
- While overall rental rate growth declined (by -3.9%) over the last year, asking rents are being held firm within the market's most prominent projects, and in some cases are increasing due to demand, low vacancy rates and strong overall market fundamentals.
- Leasing activity during the second quarter was strong with 5 deals closed that were 100,000 sf or greater, including one renewal.

Trends to Watch

Structual Shift

The move from brick-andmortar to e-commerce operations is expected to create greater investment in warehouse space as it requires three times the logistics space of traditional users.

Larger Footprints

There are two new developments underway in Lakeland in excess of 1 million sf, one of which has been entirely preleased by Amazon.

Steady Demand in Lakeland Continues

Robust demand for logistics facilities is fueling growth in Lakeland, where total industrial inventory has grown by 18% in the last 3 years.
